POLITICAL MATTERS.

JUDGE'S TARIFF PLANK IS REJECTED

The Tilden Boom Growing in the East—A Butler Meeting Held at San Francisco—Tilden's Attitude Toward Cleveland.

Illinois Democratic Convention

Peoria, July 2.—The democratic state convention met at 2:30. Chairman Oberly, of the state central committee, eulogized Tilden and when he asked who, in spite of the declination of Tilden, would be the man for president? the convention rose and shouted for Tilden. General McClernand offered a resolution that it was the sense of the convention that Tilden should be renominated but it was decided that it should be renominated, but it was decided out of order at this stage of the proceedings. Some delay ex-Governor John M Palmer was called on and spoke at considerable length on the issues of free trade and tariff, declaring in favor of a tariff for revenue only and limited to the necessities of an economical government. He said if he was the power of him who said Lazarus come forth (the speaker) would say Samuel J Tilden come forth." [Cheers] Somebody in the hall said the committee on delegates at large to the national convention had chosen him (Palmer) as one of the delegates. If that was true he would go and he would do his best and see Tilden. He would take the work for it. This statement was received with great cheers and waving of hands and fans. He then proceeded "But suppose Tilden could not run, what then?" [Cries of Cleveland!] "McDonald!" "Morrison" Palmer.] ... took a recess until 7:30.

Members of the delegates to the national convention are nearly unanimous sentiment for Tilden. It is known he would accept. After him a majority favor Cleveland and under the unit rule he will probably get the vote of Illinois. Some of the delegates favor McDonald, and some Bayard. The following are the delegates at large: W. R. Morrison, John M. Palmer, J. C. Black and Lambert Free. Their delegates will be present.

THE PLATFORM

The convention reassembled. It was presided over, with Judge Crawford as chairman. The following are the resolutions:

First—That we pledge ourselves anew to the constitutional doctrines and traditions of the democratic party, as illustrated by the teachings and examples of a long line of democratic statesmen and patriots, and embodied in the platforms of the democratic conventions of 1876 and 1880.

Second—That we proclaim afresh our firm opposition to centralization in government affairs and our resistance to the spirit of encroachment which tends to consolidate the power of the government and thus to establish the form of a real and steadily advancing ...

Third—That, as declared by the democratic convention of 1876, we insist that reform is necessary in the sum and mode of federal taxation to the end that capital may be set free from distrust, and labor lightly burdened. We denounce the high protective tariff as rendered for more than twenty years by the republican party, substantially as it now exists and embraced upon nearly 4000 articles, as a mass of abuses, injustice, inequality and false pretense, which has impoverished many industries to subsidize a few; which prohibits imports that might purchase the products of American labor. It has degraded American commerce from the first to an inferior rank on the high seas; has cut down the sales of American manufactures at home and abroad, and depleted the returns of American agriculture and industry followed by half of our people. It costs the people five times more than it produces to the treasury; obstructs the processes of production and wastes the fruits of labor. It promotes fraud and fosters smuggling, enriches dishonest officials, and bankrupts honest merchants. We demand that all custom house taxation shall be for revenue only, and the delegates from this state to the national convention to be held in Chicago the coming week are hereby instructed to vote as a unit, and use their utmost endeavors to secure an emphatic declaration by that convention for a tariff for revenue only.

TARIFF BENEFICIAL TO LABOR

Fourth—We denounce as false and utterly unfounded the charge made by the advocates of protection that tariff reform is hostile or unfriendly to home labor or home industries. That the contrary is clearly demonstrated by the fact that labor and agriculture have prospered under the operation of low tariff legislation.

Fifth—We heartily approve and cordially commend the Hon. William R. Morrison, chairman of the committee of ways and means of the present house of representatives, in the congress of the United States and the other democratic representatives from this state, for their efforts, in the very large majority of the democrats in the lower house of congress in their earnest and faithful efforts to bring about a reduction of the present ruinous high tariff taxation in the interest of the actual necessities of the government, and for reducing duties on imports.

Sixth—The investigations recently made by a congressional committee, of which William M. Springer is chairman, having developed the complicated system of frauds in the office of United States marshals for the southern district of this state, we demand ... that committee an examination of the administration of other departments of the government ... district of the state and we commend Mr. Springer for his efforts to expose the frauds which have been committed by officials of the government in the department of justice.

DEMANDS

Seventh—We demand home rule honest money, consisting of gold and silver, and paper convertible into coin on demand, strict maintenance of public faith, state and national, generous recognition of the soldiers and sailors of the republic and their widows and orphans; subordination of the military to the civil power and general and thorough reform of the civil service.

Eighth—The nomination of Blaine and Logan by the recent republican national convention for the offices of president and vice president, is a menace to the interests of the worst and most corrupt elements of American politics. The election of these nominees would be a menace to the best interests of public morals which should adorn the administration of public service, and would imperil the most sacred and material interests of our now peaceful country.

Ninth—It is the duty of the general government to reclaim all of the public lands heretofore granted to railroad and other corporations which have been forfeited by non-compliance with the conditions of the grant, and it should hold the same for the use and benefit of the people. Laws should be passed to prevent the ownership of large tracts of land by aliens, or by persons not citizens of the United States, or who have not declared their intention to become such as provided by law. Congress should prohibit the purchase of public lands in large tracts by parties for speculative purposes and should preserve the same as far as practicable for actual settlers and all subdivisions of lands as well as prohibit money to corporations or speculators for selecting lots.

THE LABORING MAN

Tenth—The democratic party is the friend of labor and the laboring man, and pledges itself to protect him alike against the cormorants and communists. It recognizes the fact that the labor is the producer of the wealth of the country and our laws should be enacted so as to promote and encourage the laborers' interest. The democratic party favors an enforcement of the national eight hour law, as also an eradication of the number of hours for a day's work on all public works, state and municipal.

Eleventh—We denounce the employment of prison labor in such wise as to compete with the labor and industry of free and honest labor.

Twelfth—We recognize the right of wage workers to combine by all lawful and peaceful means to protect them against the encroachments of monopolies which combine to fix prices for their labor common with other services they render, and we hold that each has the right to dispose of his own services in such manner as he may think will best promote his interest, and without molestation or interference by others.

IN FAVOR OF ARBITRATION

Thirteenth—The democratic party favors such measures and as will promote harmony in the relations of capital and labor and will also to its principles the rights and interests of both and to this end favor the establishment as far as can be done of boards of arbitration, to settle disputes between employers and employes and we favor also weekly payments in cash by all corporations for labor performed during the previous week. We also favor the passage of a law to this state as will give effectual lien upon the wages of all railroad as well as other employes.

Sections 14 and 15 refer to the record of the republican party while in control of the state ... for its lack of economy and extravagance and failure to ... reform.

Sixteenth—While the democratic party extols and believes and encourages the virtue of temperance, it believes laws would forbid and punish the sale of intoxicating drinks to minors or inebriates. It is, however, as earnestly opposed to all sumptuary legislation, and will firmly oppose the enactment of any prohibitory laws as being practical destruction of the rights of free men, vicious in principle and insufficient for good results.

THE TARIFF PLANK REJECTED

Judge Morrison moved to strike out all that part of the platform referring to the tariff. The motion was greeted with mingled cries of approval and against.

Hon. W. R. Morrison was called for and received a tumult of applause. He proceeded to defend the motion saying that if what was wanted was the supremacy of Illinois was that only the necessary platform should be provided and that there were other gatherers should stay his hand. Let them be they wanted a tariff for protection. They were protection ... The people could not be deceived by ... He begged the gentlemen who presided ... he would be defeated.

Mr. Ritter of Danville opposed the motion ... during all this time was very dramatic ... without the interruption ... applause ... and the members of the convention ... declaring terse expressions of opinion ... a vote by counties was taken ... amendment which resulted ... majority ... the whole platform ... was then adopted ... as follows: For president, Carter H. Harrison of Chicago; lieutenant governor, Henry Seiter of ... secretary of state, ... Dougherty of ... treasurer, ... of Sangamon.

Political Pulpits

Augusta, Me., July 2.—The commencement of Colby university to-day was an enthusiastic affair. Peppers, Caldwell and Fernald made the speeches. Blaine being called on ... with this demonstration, and said: I am deeply indebted to you for the welcome you have given me. Thirty years ago I first came to this college to commencement. I have since been present from time to time. I have watched closely the crowds assembled and have noted the hearty and healthy growth of the college which is not surpassed by any college in New England. I miss from this gathering your friend and my friend Abner Cobwin. He then paid a tender and touching tribute to Mr. Cobwin as his friend and adviser in past years and as the benefactor, not only of Colby but of many meritorious objects, entitling him to be called a philanthropist. He said he had not heretofore been in favor of coeducation but the evidence of the past few years had more than half convinced him of its wisdom. He then congratulated Dr. Pepper upon the weight of the duties he could place upon him by the enlargement of Colby's influence and power. Blaine returned to Augusta.

THE FIELD BOOM GROWING

New York, July 2.—[Special.]—Inquiries made by your reporter at political headquarters in this city and of prominent persons who are friends of Judge Field elicited the following. Professor Phelps of Yale college says, "Field, as presidential candidate, would sweep the country and command the entire independent vote.

George S. Coe, president of the produce exchange, says: "The nomination of Field would be the salvation of the party."

Two prominent wealthy New York republicans recently called on Cyrus W. Field urging him to advise his brother for him. They assured him he would poll the full vote of the bolting republicans.

A member of the California delegation said he would vote at the convention first for Butler and next for Field. The county democracy are friendly to Field. Several of their leaders who go to Chicago to-morrow have announced Field as their second choice. A few New York republicans believe that Field would more closely contest this state than any other outside candidate the democrats could name, because of his sound financial views.

A BUTLER MEETING AT SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, July 2.—[Special.]—A large mass meeting of democrats was held last night to express approval of Ben Butler's candidacy. The meeting was in the hands of the "anti-boss" element of the party and was addressed by I. S. Kalloch and others of his stripe. Kalloch said that Blaine was the strongest man the republicans could have nominated and was the hardest man the democrats could have to defeat. The speaker eulogized Butler as one of the most honest and truest men in America. He is the most popular man among the colored people. ... He is an American and not an Englishman and that is one of the reasons I want to see Butler pitted against Blaine. He is the best man in the democratic party to beat Blaine.

TILDEN AND CLEVELAND

New York, July 2.—[Special.]—Jones of the Times, who leaves for Europe to-morrow, told a former colleague this evening: "I know that Tilden would not accept the nomination if tendered it unanimously. Of course Dana would like the nomination and therefore opposes Cleveland."

The Evening Post says: "We are able to affirm positively that the Boston Herald's statement that Tilden favors the nomination of Cleveland or Coleman is correct. The Sun is entirely misinformed when it says that Tilden is opposed to Cleveland and favors the nomination of Randall."

A GOOD WORD FOR FIELD

Boston, July 2.—[Special.]—The Evening Star to-morrow will contain a portrait of Judge Field and will say: Justice Field is to-day thoroughly identified with the best principles of democracy. If the democrats want a man with a pure record it would seem that Field filled the bill and if they wish to put forth as their candidate a standard bearer of high ideas and inspire it and sound judicial mind it would seem as though Stephen J. Field came now as an inspiration.

UTAH DELEGATES

Salt Lake, July 2.—The democratic delegation from Utah to the Chicago convention are ... Smith and J. R. Wilkins. Two first choice of Smith is Tilden and Hendricks second. ... Hendricks and Cleveland; third ... McDonald and Cleveland; fourth Thurman. The first choice of Wilkins is Bayard.

THE NARROW GAUGE LEASE.

PORTLAND, July 2, 1884.

To the Editor of the Oregonian.

The newspaper controversy on this subject is none of my seeking. But when the leading officials of the O. R. & N. company in Boston have thought it necessary for their own purposes publicly to circulate statements which, to say the least of it, are grossly misleading and indeed altogether unworthy of their authors and especially when these statements are founded upon to support a course of action which violates every honorable principle I could not remain a passive spectator. I would not again have intruded myself upon your indulgence but the writer of the unsigned letter appearing to-day in making selections from the Dundee directors' narrative of the consultations with counsel as this lease question has contrived with the help of his own interpolated remarks to make it appear as if after all there had been some doubt as to the legality of the contract and that in particular there is no authority for this use of Mr Benjamin's name to bolster the lease. I remark that the ... was ... indubitably settled ... retained counsel who ... the lease ... including the ... Mr. Benjamin ... were ... The power of the two companies to enter into the contract was so thought ... very first subject of examination and ... counsel at the revision of the lease this point was specially emphasized by the Oregonian railway's home solicitor ... counsel who were as to the lease when Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Best ... With their pointed instructions on this specific question ... as a sound agreement ... I think a clear authority for the use of Mr. Benjamin's name? How could he say that it was a good agreement if the parties thereto had no power to make it? Much is made of Mr. Thornton's statement when he first saw the lease as to whether it required legislative sanction. His inquiry was very natural because he knew that in Britain railway companies are all incorporated under special acts of parliament and that unless these charters contain express powers of lease the companies have no such power. Indeed, this is the very kind of case referred to by Mr. Tweed. It was the case of a railroad company incorporated under a special act of the legislature which contained no powers of lease. Accordingly the court held the lease invalid. But the circumstances are wholly irrelevant to the question raised. Under its articles of incorporation the O. R. & N. company had power to take this lease and the Oregonian, by its articles had power to give it. With the dilemma the lessees in order to wriggle out of their obligations invent this specious plea that what they did was contrary to public policy and therefore ultra vires. Public policy, forsooth! The best commentary on this flimsy contention is to quote from a paragraph in your issue of yesterday. The Oregon Navigation made a proposition to the Northern Pacific to lease its road, the latter to guarantee the Oregon Navigation 6 per cent on its stock for two years and 8 per cent thereafter. While this company is declaring that in taking the narrow gauge lease it did a thing contrary to public policy it is at the same time reported to be negotiating a lease of its own line to a ... company.

The last paragraph of the letter seems to proceed on the premise that two blacks make a white. Such ethics are quite ... national ... correspondent ... the ... but it does not affect the question ... fact remains that Mr. Morris ... made a ... and unfounded and gratuitous insinuation. If the ... he was in duty bound to investigate the facts before he made the charge. That any honorable man with a knowledge of the facts could have made the allegation is beyond belief. JUSTITIA.

WASHINGTON

THE HOUSE PASSES IT OVER HIS ACTION

The Senate Passes the Sundry Civil Bill—Randall Victorious in the House—Congressional News and Gossip—Etc.

Washington, July 2.—Attorney General Brewster submitted to the president to-day in compliance with the latter's request a long and carefully prepared opinion upon the bill for the restoration of Fitz John Porter to the army in which he expresses the opinion that it is clearly unconstitutional. He says in part:

Whatever power congress has upon the subject of appointments in the army must be derived from some one or more of the following clauses of the constitution: "That congress shall have power to declare war," etc., "to raise and support armies," etc., "to make rules for the government and regulation of land and naval forces," etc., "to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers," etc. Section 8, article 1.

But another clause of the constitution declares that the President shall nominate and by and with the advice and consent of the senate appoint ambassadors and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law, etc. [Section 2, article 2.] This is power expressly given the president by the same instrument which gives to congress the powers above mentioned, namely, to make rules for the government and regulation of land forces, etc. From the foregoing powers conferred upon congress, power to designate by law a person to fill a military office cannot be implied since this would be in direct conflict with the power of appointment, expressly given the president, as above.

THE BILL UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Regarding the bill as imposing or attempting to impose upon the president a duty to appoint the person designated therein it is without any support in the constitution. It is an assumption of implied power which is not based upon any express power, and clearly invades the constitutional rights of the president. Congress has no right to enact as a law that which will be ineffectual. It cannot enact advise or counsel; it must make laws that are rules of action, not an expression of will that may or may not be followed. Counsel is a matter of persuasion; law is a matter of injunction. Counsel acts upon the willing; law upon the unwilling also. (Blackstone's Commentaries, 44.)

If then this bill be an injunction commanding the president to appoint it is an usurpation and if it be only counsel it is without the essential element of law and congress can enact nothing but that which is to have the full vigor and effect of law.

But again the bill is subject to objection upon the ground that congress thereby in effect, creates an office only upon the condition that it is to be occupied by a particular individual named. If this principle were adopted generally in the creation of offices it would obviously result in constraining the appointing power to accept the condition imposed and fill offices with individuals designated by congress thus frustrating the design of the constitution which is that officers must be alone selected according to the judgment and will of the person entitled to whom the powers of nomination and advice, consent and appointment are vested.

THE PRESIDENT'S VETO

The president this afternoon returned the Fitz John Porter bill to congress with his objections. He takes the same view as the attorney general regarding the unconstitutionality of the bill and says:

There are other causes that deter me from giving this bill the sanction of my approval. The judgment of the court martial by which more than twenty years since General Fitz John Porter was tried and convicted was pronounced by a tribunal composed of the general officers of distinguished character and ability. Its investigation of the charges of which it found the accused guilty was thorough and conscientious and its findings and sentence in due course of law were approved by Abraham Lincoln then president of the United States. Its legal competency, its jurisdiction of the accused and the subjects of the accusation and the substantial regularity of its proceedings are matters which have never been brought in question. Its judgment therefore is final, and conclusive in its character. The supreme court of the United States has recently declared that a court martial such as this was is the organ provided by law and clothed with the duty of administering justice in this class of cases. Its judgments when approved rest on the same basis and are surrounded by the same considerations which give conclusiveness to the judgments of other tribunals, including as well the lowest as the highest.

THE COURT MARTIAL SUPREME

It follows accordingly that when a lawfully constituted court martial has duly declared its findings and its sentence, and the same has been duly approved, neither the president nor congress has any power to set them aside. The existence of such power is not openly asserted, nor perhaps is it necessarily implied in the provisions of the bill which is before me, but when its enacting clauses are read in the light of the recitals of its preamble, it will be seen that it seeks in effect the practical annulment of the findings and sentence of a competent court martial.

A conclusion at variance with these findings has been reached after an investigation by a board consisting of three officers of the army. This board was not created in pursuance of any statutory authority and was powerless to compel the attendance of witnesses or to pronounce a judgment that could be lawfully enforced. The officers who composed it, in their report to the secretary of war, dated March 19, 1879, state that in their opinion "justice requires such action as may be necessary to annul and set aside the findings and sentence of the court martial in the case of Major General Fitz John Porter, and to restore him to the position of which that sentence deprived him such restoration to take effect from the date of his dismissal from office."

A DANGEROUS PRECEDENT

The provisions of the bill now under consideration are avowedly based on the assumption that the findings of the court martial had been discovered to be erroneous, but it will be borne in mind that the investigation on which this claimed discovery was made was ... many years after the events ... these findings related and under circumstances that made it impossible to reproduce the evidence on which they were based.

It seems to me that the proposed legislation would establish a dangerous precedent calculated to imperil in no small measure the binding force and effect of the judgments of various tribunals established under our constitution and laws. I have already in the exercise of the pardoning power with which the president is vested remitted the continuing penalty which made it impossible for Fitz John Porter to hold any office of trust or profit under the government of the United States but I am unwilling to give my sanction to any legislation which shall practically annul and set at naught the solemn and deliberate conclusions of the tribunal by which he was convicted and of the president by whom its findings were examined and approved.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

Senate.

Washington, July 2.—The senate insisted on its amendments to the naval bill and a conference was ordered.

The senate went into executive session.

After ten minutes of executive session the session was resumed in legislative business.

Van Wyck from the committee on public lands reported favorably the joint resolution prohibiting the secretary of the interior from certifying or patenting any lands to railroad corporations until congress shall have acted on any bill or report from a committee favoring forfeiture of the lands.

George, from the committee on judiciary, reported with amendments the ... bill relating to taxation of Pacific railroad lands. The amendments substituted for the provisions of the house bill are those of the bill reported early this session by the judiciary committee. It is proposed to amend the bill so as to render ... lands subject to taxation.

The sundry civil bill was then taken up.

Pending consideration of the bill the senate insisted on its amendments to the river and harbor bill and voted for ...

Sherman offered the following resolution which lies over till to-morrow:

Resolved, That the senate will meet at the usual hour on Friday the 4th of July and after reading the journal and before other business is done the secretary of the senate shall read the Declaration of Independence and Washington's farewell address.

Consideration of the sundry civil bill was then resumed.

House.

Washington, July 2.—Henley, from the committee on ... reported the bill to forfeit a portion of the grant in aid of the construction of a railroad from Portland, Oregon, to connect with the Central Pacific.

In pursuance of an agreement yesterday the house proceeded to vote on a motion to substitute the military fortification bill for the bill reported by the majority of the committee on appropriations. The motion was agreed to—yeas 150; nays 91.

As amended by the adoption of the substitute the bill was then passed—yeas 133, nays 46. It appropriates $697,000.

The senate amendments to the river and harbor appropriation bill were non-concurred in. Ferrell submitted a conference report on the army bill. The explanatory statement announces that the conferees have receded from their disagreement to the senate amendment striking out the clause reducing compensation to subsidized railroads for army transportation. This was the only point of difficulty between the two houses. The report was agreed to without division.

Tucker moved that the house go into committee of the whole on bills for raising the revenue. Lost—ayes 80, nays 111.

Hewitt (New York) asked unanimous consent for the adoption of a resolution asking that a committee of thirteen members be appointed by the speaker to investigate rumors of fraudulent transactions recently disclosed in several executive departments. Hiscock objected, and the resolution was not received.

Townshend moved that the house proceed to consideration of business on the speaker's table, his object being to reach the Mexican pension bill with the senate amendments. Agreed to—yeas 153, nays 73.

Springer moved that bills on the speaker's table relating to public buildings be first considered. Lost—yeas 74, nays 130.

The house refused—84 to 127—to consider the special order being the bill granting pensions to survivors of the Mexican and Indian wars and proceeded to consideration of the Mexican pension bill.

The amendment striking out the clause granting pensions to surviving officers and enlisted men who served sixty days in the war or who actually served in the army and the navy in that war, and inserting in lieu thereof a provision granting pensions to those who actually served fourteen days in Mexico or on the coasts or frontier thereof or en route thereto was concurred in—177 to 57.

The president's veto of the Fitz John Porter bill was laid before the house. The reading of the veto was received with applause on the republican side, and hisses on the democratic side.

The speaker announced that immediate action on the veto would be in order and General Slocum moved that the bill be passed, the objection of the president to the contrary notwithstanding, and on this motion demanded the previous question. Under the constitution a yea and nay vote was necessary and it was taken, resulting as follows—yeas 168, nays 78.

The announcement of the vote was greeted with continued cheering by the friends of the measure, and with hisses by its opponents. Adjourned.

The message will be laid before the senate to-morrow.

RANDALL'S STRENGTH MANIFESTS ITSELF

Washington, July 1.—[Special.]—Randall in the house this morning, by a unanimous democratic vote, secured the defeat of the senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill providing for the construction of seven new steel cruisers and the completion of the ironclad monitors. There is but little doubt that the senate will be compelled to recede from this amendment. The session is so far advanced and the desire for final adjournment is so universal that it cannot be believed that the senate will attempt to make a fight for its amendment to the naval bill. The house, too, late in the day concurred in the senate amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill and this circumstance gives rise to the belief that an understanding has been reached for an amicable adjustment of the points in dispute between the two houses on all bills so that final adjournment can be had not later than next Saturday. The senate by receding from its amendments to the naval bill will probably be able to secure the approval of its principal amendments to the other bills. The amendment to build the new cruisers was rejected in the house by a vote of 93 to 117. The amendment to complete the ironclad monitors was defeated by a vote of 87 to 145. At no time during the present session of congress has Randall's control of the majority been so clearly made manifest. The threats of the revenue reformers to depose Randall from his position of leadership of his party, when with a handful of protectionists he defeated the Morrison tariff bill are proved to have been no ... This control of the party in the house was never stronger than it is to-day.

Suicide.—Peter Loos, a native of Holland, aged 40 years and for thirty years a gambler, committed suicide by hanging at Oysterville ... on Friday. He climbed a barrel, tied one end of a rope to a rafter, the other end around his neck with slip noose and kicked the barrel from under him. He was found soon afterward. An inquest resulted in a verdict of suicide while in a fit of temporary insanity. Some three years ago deceased killed a man in Marshfield, Oregon, while engaged in gambling. He was tried and acquitted but since that time it seems the homicide has rested uneasily on his mind until finally it had the effect of causing mental aberration. During the three years dating since his trouble at Coos bay he has been stopping in Astoria and vicinity ... giving his attention principally to gambling although he worked a short time last summer at logging on the Wilapah. About $100 and a watch are the only things he leaves of value. He has no friends or relatives that are known in this country.

Preparing to Fight Fire.—Chief Fire Engineer Morgan has ordered all members of the department to report for duty at their respective houses at 5 o'clock this evening and to remain there unless called out by an alarm until 5 A. M. Saturday. This is eminently proper. Too much precaution can not be taken during the fireworks season. Property-owners personally should not leave buildings entirely unguarded to-night and to-morrow night.

En Route Home.—The Raymond excursion party left Tuesday morning by boat for The Dalles where they took the train in the evening en route home. It is hardly necessary to say that they were in rapture over the grandest combination of river, woods and mountain scenery in the world. That they should have reserved this best wine for the last of the feast is fortunate.

Failure of a Mill Company.

San Francisco, July 2.—The Golden Age mills are embarrassed. It is expected they will make an assignment to-morrow.

San Francisco, July 2.—The failure of the Golden Age mills was rumored on change to-day. The president of the company, P. A. Campbell, stated that no announcement of the failure had yet been made nor have the creditors been notified. A meeting of the creditors will be called to-morrow and it is probable that an assignment will then be made. The liabilities will not exceed $100,000. The French savings bank is the principal creditor. The affairs were embarrassed by the expense of putting in new improved machinery recently costing about $70,000. The French bank lent the mill company $18,000 about a month ago, taking as security a mortgage on the mill.

The Advance in Hops.

San Francisco, July 2.—[Special.]—Speaking of the recent sharp rise in hops, the Call says: Holders base their advanced views on reports of damage to eastern crops by June frosts and the flooding of a large district in this state. It appears that European crops will be much lighter than had been expected owing to unfavorable weather and the appearance of lice which infest the vines. Hence hops are very strong and rising, having gone up ten cents per pound within a week. There is a quick demand for the new crop but although some 3000 bales of California have been contracted for at from 15 cents to 20 cents per pound, growers are now inclined to hold off.

Suit for Damages

San Francisco, July 2.—On the 4th of last September Sarah F. Bosworth embarked on the steamer Queen of the Pacific at this port for Portland, Oregon. She now brings suit against the Pacific Coast Steamship company, owners of the Queen of the Pacific to recover $10,000 damages and $300 money expended during her sickness.

THE NANAIMO HORROR

Victoria, B. C., July 2.—Further advices from the scene of the explosion at the Wellington coal mine state that all the bodies have been recovered, twenty-three in number ... but one of those who were actually in the mine at the time escaped. Those only escaping who were at the entrance and some of those were badly injured. The cause of the explosion has not as yet been ascertained but it is supposed to have been an accumulation of gas which occasionally collects in No. 3 shaft. It was the duty of the foreman to go down with a Davy safety lamp every morning and report as to the condition of the mine, registering such report in a book kept for that purpose. It is said that he reported everything all right on the morning of the explosion with the shaft having gone down into the mine. This man is not to be found and should he be discovered will be arrested pending the investigation. The indignation is great against him, and the probability is that he would be roughly used by the miners if caught.

PATHETIC SCENES VERY MEAGER

It is almost impossible to obtain information in reference to the matter. Miners who were at work in the North Wellington mines were unconscious of the explosion having taken place until coming up at midday. One miner who escaped with slight injury had a narrow escape for men on both sides of him were killed. Two brothers who were killed had only been working a few days. The explosion was felt for a long way, the great force going toward No. 4 shaft, and men in the slope, and those to No. 4 shaft, a distance of 300 yards from the seat of the explosion were blown about like match wood but most escaped with slight injury, while a few were killed outright.

The bodies were all interred this afternoon. There is a general gloom over the community, though work is going on as usual in the other portions of the mines.

An inquest is now being held on the disaster. Flags from public and other buildings and on vessels in the harbor are at half mast. Never in the history of mining in British Columbia has such a terrible calamity occurred.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Verdict of Not Guilty.

Pendleton, July 2.—[Special.]—Henry Barnhart and Frank Anderson on trial for killing an Indian on the reservation, were acquitted to-day. As soon as released they were again arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Charles ... who leaves for Portland on to-night's train in charge of the young prisoners. When the prisoners were pronounced innocent the court room was packed, and three cheers and many hats were thrown from the entire assembly. Judge Bellinger promptly fined two of the crowd $5 each for contempt of court and the fines were as promptly paid by friends of the prisoners.

COLOSSAL LUMBER SCHEME.

The milling companies on the Sound have been thrown into a state of great excitement by talk about supplying lumber for the Panama canal. It is stated that the Canal Company has contracted for about 200,000,000 feet, and that the Puget sound mill companies have united on a plan of prices and will share equally in the performance of the work. It is said that the contract has been awarded, and that after the 1st of August the mills will begin to run night and day. And then the following calculations are made which it is to be hoped are not counting chickens before they are hatched.

The seven mills of the combination have an aggregate demand upon them for 3,000,000,000 feet per annum. Adding 400,000,000 feet and the call is increased to 500,000,000 feet for the next year. A contract for this quantity of lumber is a big one truly. The value of it to the trade is fully $10 a thousand feet, or $5,000,000 all told on board the ship before leaving the Sound. It is equivalent to at least 300 large ship loads and to the employment in our woods and mills of 2000 men more than are now employed in them. To fill the whole order in a single year, in addition to the ordinary work will tax the mills to their utmost capacity, requiring from them an average of 1,600,000 feet of lumber every day in the year, except Sunday—a quantity considerably in excess of the greatest production of any time in the past."

The following seems a kind of a let down on the above: "The Port Gamble mill is now filling an order for 1,540,000 feet for the Panama canal."

This one vessel load, it seems, is all the lumber really contracted for on the Sound. A prominent mill man here has under consideration a contract for 6,000,000 feet of lumber, but nothing has been decided about it yet. It is to be feared that the extravagant idea of the Sound mill men will not be realized, but it is to be hoped they may.

The Bulls again Force a General Advance in the Price of Stocks

New York, July 2.—Governments are higher for 4½s. Railways are strong. Texas Pacific rose to 15 on semi-official reports that the August coupons will be paid. Stocks were buoyant and excited today. The bears were much alarmed at the turn in affairs and round amounts of leading shares were taken with confidence for home and foreign account purchases being due mainly to the fact that but few important railway corporations defaulted on their July interest charges. Reports from the grain growing regions were of a favorable character and this with the published views of Vanderbilt on the situation had much to do with the improvement. The Vanderbilt Gould White party were buyers throughout. In early dealings the bears rushed in to cover and in their haste bid prices up on themselves. The advance compared with last night's closing figures ranged from 1 to 5 per cent. In the afternoon there were sales to realize and prices fell off ¼ to 2 per cent in the general list and 2¼ in Union Pacific. Near the close a firmer tone prevailed and there was a rally of ¼ to ½ per cent. The market closed strong. Compared with last night's closing prices are ½ to 4 per cent higher. Union Pacific is unchanged.

IMMENSE FOREST FIRES

Kingston, Ont., July 2.—Great fires are raging in several of the townships numbering perhaps 100. The fire in the McGill settlement a couple of miles square has still spread. Near the river about a mile from the railroad station fire is said to cover fourteen miles one way and three miles another. The fire has ruined miles and an immense stock of lumber ... fire.

Frightened a Panther

Brooksville (Fla.) Crescent

What came near being a tragedy occurred on Salt river in this county last Thursday a week ago. Mr. Shiver was absent from home on business and his wife had seated herself near the door at her sewing while her little one was playing around on the floor near at hand. Hearing a slight noise, Mrs. Shiver looked around and saw crouched within a dozen feet of her and her babe an immense panther, ready to spring. With a shriek she sprang to her feet, dashed the heavy shears with which she was sitting at work in the panther's face, snatched her child and rushed back into the house. The panther disconcerted by the sudden attack and noise beat a double rate retreat for the swamp.

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure,

DR. C. McLANE'S

Celebrated Liver Pills

In offering to the public Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills as a remedy for Liver and Bilious Complaints, we presume no apology will be needed. The great prevalence of Liver Complaint and Bilious Diseases of all kinds throughout the United States, and particularly in the West and South, where, in the majority of cases, the patient is not within the reach of a regular physician, requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be safe and effectual. That such is the character of Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, there can be no doubt. The great success which has invariably attended the use, will, we think, be sufficient to convince the most incredulous. It has been our sincere wish that these Pills should be fairly tested and stand or fall by the effects produced. That they have been so tested and that the result has been in every respect favorable, we call tens of thousands to witness who have experienced their beneficial effects.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

are not held forth or recommended, (like most of the popular medicines of the day), as universal cure alls, but simply as a specific for Liver Complaints, and the symptoms connected with a deranged state of that organ.

THURSDAY MORNING JULY 3 1884

ONE FOR THE TICKET

The president has vetoed the Fitz John Porter bill which scores one for the Logan end of the ticket and pleases Blaine and everybody else among the old guard of republicans. This is one of the matters that has been hanging fire, and people have been wondering how the president would treat it. It is very plain that he regards the matter very much as Senator Logan does and will not lend himself to an endorsement of any such military conduct as Porter displayed. This bill has had a hard time of it for several years and now meets a fate which will probably give it its quietus.

The next best thing that can be done for the ticket is for the republicans to force matters to an adjournment as fast as they can. The democrats have withheld the appropriation bills until a very late day, and have at the heel of the session sent them to the senate. One of the largest of them was sent several days ago with only a half hour's consideration and the senate was asked to take them with the same want of consideration and to hasten adjournment. The republicans have not acted in accordance with any such request and have given the bills the more careful consideration because it was denied to them in the house. The bills contrary to the declarations of the democracy, contained a great deal of new legislation. The legislative bill for instance, proposed to practically remodel the customs system by giving the secretary of the treasury the power to consolidate and abolish the many districts in his discretion and the republicans emphasized their opposition to changes of this sort on appropriation bills by striking out this provision. They did this with the reservation that they might consider such a plan if it should be submitted in an independent bill. It is evident that the senate in like manner will strike out many of the important provisions of the house bills. There has been a sharp contest over the house amendment to the sundry civil known as the Springer amendment which was not reported from any law committee of the house and which proposes a change in the judicial system. Some of the republicans think that they have found concealed in this amendment an attack upon the use of marshals and supervisors of elections. The senate has given its decision, and awaits the action of a conference committee. It remains to be seen how persistent the house will be with its conference committees as to these provisions which have been the hobbies of some members. There are other measures which may tend to prolong the session.

There is good reason for the senate to insist upon some of its amendments to these appropriation bills but it will do well to hasten adjournment by finding out as soon as possible how much it can accomplish and undertaking no more. The country is never in a good humor when congress is in session, and the republicans ought not to be the ones to prolong the obstinacy.

THE EASTERN PRESS

Among the republican newspapers in the eastern states which are supporting the nomination of Blaine and Logan there is manifested a spirit of toleration and conciliation and freedom which has usually characterized such papers and is necessary as we believe and have said, to the maintenance of those principles of popular government which we have inherited from the fathers. For example the Portland, Me. Press, in an article entitled "For the Sake of Harmony," criticises Congressman Boutelle's Washington speech in which he represents Senators Frye and Hale as unfavorable to Blaine's nomination and adds: If all who at any time before the assembling of the convention or before the desire of the majority of the party had found expression entertained a doubt of the wisdom of Mr. Blaine's nomination are to be subject to the public reproof, direct or implied, of friends of Mr. Blaine who have never doubted the wisdom of their own prepossessions, there will be a pretty state of things in the party before the campaign is far advanced."

In the Iowa delegation there were two men who voted for Arthur on the last ballot. They were not instructed for Blaine but voted for him at first. Since the convention they have been accused of treachery and treason and pursued most bitterly by the Des Moines Register. The Minneapolis Tribune has strongly reprobated this conduct and now the Illinois State Journal, a Blaine paper says:

The Republican party has rid itself of bosses in every state in the Union except Iowa where the small collared editor of a village paper call the Des Moines Register handles the whip and keeps the boys in line. The Clarksons are now bound up chairman of the state central committee last year because he and a Mr. Morrison saw fit to vote for Arthur. The Clarksons are not big enough to be real bosses but like wasps or mosquitoes they have a way of buzzing stinging and worrying Iowa republicans into almost any cranky notion they get into their heads. Through their malign influence the splendid republican majority of a few years ago was so cut down that the legislature of last winter stood 49 democrats to 51 republicans. Were this not a presidential year the state would certainly go democratic this fall. The sooner the Iowa republicans rid themselves of the Clarksons, the better it will be for the party.

In New Hampshire the Manchester Mirror, an old republican paper which is now supporting the ticket, points out the folly of treating the independents in the idiotic way which which has been adopted by the New York Tribune and Philadelphia Press. It says that these men cannot be bulldozed, that they have no favors to ask and that they cannot be brought into the ranks by the crack of anybody's whip. The Burlington Vt., Free Press talks in the same strain and the Rutland Herald whose manager is postmaster has gone so far as to administer a stinging rebuke to Henry H. Faxon of Quincy, Mass. for his reckless denunciation of the democratic party. "There is no sense," it says, "in applying terms of extravagant and contempt uous vituperation to a great party whose popular vote falls only 7000 short of our own. Our own party has had some scalawags, we have had Belknap, Colfax Ames, Patterson, Babcock, Dorsey, Brady Kellogg and others of that coarse type of lobby agents and bribe takers and since we are not immaculate it would be well to hesitate before we describe the democratic kettle as superlatively black."

All these papers are supporting the ticket and in these extracts, as well as in their general drift, they are representing the principles which Mr. Blaine, in his latter accepting a position in General Garfield's cabinet said were emphasized by Garfield's election, as they had been vindicated in the conventions of 1880 and 1876. What these principles are the readers of THE OREGONIAN well understand. It is the extreme organs of Mr. Blaine such as the New York Tribune the Philadelphia Press and the Des Moines Register, which are representing the principles which were rejected at those conventions.

Perhaps some inkling of what the democrats want to elect a president for may be found in this. The Louisville Courier Journal's Washington correspondent thinks the danger is that Cleveland if nominated and elected, will stand in with the independent voters and thereby ruin the democratic party. It would be better to suffer defeat with McDonald than to succeed with any man who might sell out the party a year after he is in office. It is barely possible that the independent voters will not stand in with the democrats if they discover the fact that a ticket is being made up with a view to shutting them out from party patronage after the election.

Senator Ingalls defines the problem of most importance at the present time to our government to be "how to get rid of our surplus in some respectable way." One respectable way would be to stop collecting more taxes than the government needs. That would be the simplest, and the most popular way with the masses of the people.

CONGRESSIONAL LIFE

Judge Poland, who has represented the Second Vermont district in congress for many years has given in a letter, his reasons for declining another election. Although he is advanced in years, his health and strength are unimpaired, and if his work in congress were confined to legislation he thinks he could get along very well but the trouble is that the course of events has thrown a vast amount of "outside work" upon him. He adds: The principal source of this is the pension office. Since the commencement of this congress I have looked after nearly 500 pension cases. The labor and correspondence growing out of this has been very burdensome. I do not speak of this to complain of it, for it was the only effectual way my constituents had to reach the department and I have performed the service cheerfully, and willingly and as faithfully as I could." There have been few men in Washington during the twenty years since Judge Poland first went there better fitted for public life than he. But he has had so much "outside work" to look after that he has not been able to attend to public affairs with much satisfaction to himself, or benefit to the country. His constituents have been much less exacting than those of many other congressmen but with a spirit of friendly fidelity he has given the time to their affairs which he should have devoted to general legislation. But his career is not exceptional. Congress itself has come to be a great claim agency. A large proportion of the bills are to secure the payment of private claims which should be considered and adjusted elsewhere. The list of pension claims particularly is growing each year. During the present session only a very few acts of general legislation have been passed. The time is consumed in special legislation and senators and members who have been accustomed as Judge Poland has, been to satisfactory work at home find very little enjoyment in doing chores for their constituents about the departments or in doing the work of city councilmen in the halls of congress. For this reason men who would naturally have gone into politics a generation or two ago now find no inducements and few opportunities to devote themselves to public affairs, or to continue long in that occupation.

In selecting a governor for the territory of Dakota the president referred the matter to Delegate Raymond of that territory, and together they selected a very bright newspaper man over all the other candidates. Colonel Pierce was at the time of his appointment Washington correspondent of the Chicago News. He has been one of the principal writers on the Inter Ocean and has lived through forty five years of active life. He was an officer in the volunteer army and since the close of the war has given himself to literary pursuits and newspaper work. In a most distracting superabundance of candidates, the president took him up as an outsider and probably did the best thing possible. The long standing candidates, or applicants, all seem to get left this year.

The long standing question as to who shall be governor of Washington territory is at last settled by the appointment of W. C. Squires of Seattle. Governor Newell is given a place as Indian inspector, the scope and importance of which we do not fully understand. The new governor is largely interested in Seattle property and has lived in the territory for a considerable time. This fact will please those who want a governor selected from among the residents though the president's influence did not secure his nomination. He is a son in law of Mr. Remington of New York the wealthy rifle manufacturer is intimate with Senator Miller and has a host of powerful friends who have intimate social and political relations with the president. He will doubtless make a good governor.

The Philadelphia Telegraph thinks that if the present liquidation could go on until it taught the country that honest dealing is better than money and that vulgar display is not happiness and that economy and simple living are real virtues the country would be the richer, not the poorer for it. The Boston Advertiser also tells its readers that the true sources of our wealth are not in Wall street but on the prairies in the cotton fields in the coal mines in the factories in the workshops and in the people who produce tangible values. So long as these tangible values increase it can be no misfortune to have the wind and water let out from inflated stocks and honest men should not be troubled when bubbles burst or windy speculations collapse.

The Mexican war pension bill as it finally passed the senate is very different from what it was when it was passed by the house and there is a faint hope that the latter body will refuse to concur in the many changes. There is no reason whatever for any pension legislation at this session, except the all powerful one that we are on the eve of a presidential campaign. And as good republicans as Senator Edmunds Sherman and Hawley are said to be controlled by that. Their action shows that the profuse and extraordinary promises made in the national platform cannot be fulfilled.

A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says the Oregonian railway was leased to the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company for the benefit of the Oregon and California. The transaction is one of several that were done in the name of O. R. & N. Co. but for the benefit of other corporations. If the moneys of the shareholders of the O. R. & N. Co. must be paid out to maintain these extraordinary deals the responsibility will rest upon the courts. The new management declines to assume it. It is one of the transactions that are made possible by having several co operating corporations managed by the same men.

When John L. Sullivan was in Portland stories were told of his gentlemanly qualities affection for his mother etc. and otherwise he was presented to the public as having all the attributes of a genteel sentimentalist. Now it turns out that he is a drunken brute as we would naturally expect a slugger to be while his antagonist at the Boston match was very pale and almost crying. A nice lot of beastly fellows who get so much attention.

There is probably no man in America who has studied the whole railroad business in its largest relations as well as in its minute details so thoroughly as Charles Francis Adams, Jr. He has been a railroad commissioner and a director and has written much and well on railroad management and finance and now that he has become president of the Union Pacific he will have opportunity to give some of his well formed ideas a practical exemplification.

Some one who has been thinking more about the matter than we have estimates that the proprietors of the circus will take twenty five thousand dollars out of Portland. Now if some one will figure up the amount spent in Portland by people who come from the surrounding country, and add to it that spent by the circus employes and paid for transportation etc. it would be interesting to see the balance struck.

CITY.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Boise presiding.

ACTIONS FOR CONTRACT.—Suit was commenced by Ellen Lee & Co., to recover damages from Will Lee & Co., in the sum of $4 242 80.

ATTACHMENT.—The suit brought by Reid and Ladow against the Oregon Improvement Company, Limited, Henry Failing secretary of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, and Henry Villard president of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, to have the directors of the company restrained from issuing the stock of the company in accordance with a resolution authorizing the issue of the same, and to prevent the plaintiffs and all stockholders who refused to pay the assessment and plaintiffs from having the benefit of the same, was dismissed at the plaintiffs' cost by order of the court this morning. Defendants failed to fulfill the conditions of the order which required them to pay the assessment and plaintiffs had to pay the cost of the suit. It is understood that the court will grant judgment for that amount with interest. The suit was commenced in the early part of last month.

ANOTHER SUIT.—Another suit was commenced in the Circuit Court this morning, entitled Ellen Lee against the City of Salem and others. The complaint alleges that on the 30th day of June, 1884, the defendants bought of plaintiffs 2,000 bushels of potatoes, more or less, at 8.75 cents per bag and agreed to pay for them on presentation of the bill of sale. The plaintiffs were ready and are still ready to deliver the bags and have performed all of their contract, but the defendants refused to take the bags whereby plaintiffs have been damaged in the sum of $788 95 for which amount, together with interest, the plaintiffs pray judgment against the defendants. Attachment has been issued and levied upon the property of the defendants.

ARRESTED.—Charles Hall was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out in Justice Stephens' court charging him with assault and battery. Some time since Hall and Thomas Street, on First avenue between Taylor and Salmon streets, had a fight on the edge of the old portion of the sidewalk which was torn up in making the excavation directly in front of the Standard Milling Company's warehouse. Hall was arrested for the assault and battery, and Street for obstructing the sidewalk. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each. Street paid his fine and left the court room, but Hall was unable to raise the money and was locked up in the city prison.

ARRESTED.—Albina Hall was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out in Justice Stephens' court charging her with assault and battery. Some time since Albina Hall and Mrs. Thomas Street, on First avenue between Taylor and Salmon streets, had a fight on the edge of the old portion of the sidewalk which was torn up in making the excavation directly in front of the Standard Milling Company's warehouse. Hall was arrested for the assault and battery, and Street for obstructing the sidewalk. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each. Street paid his fine and left the court room, but Hall was unable to raise the money and was locked up in the city prison.

The Daily Oregonian

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 3 1884

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

Eastern Oregon

The editor of the Heppner Times who has visited the scenes of the very recent heavy rain storms and cloud bursts in Umatilla county says: We went up Hinton fork to Mitchell's and ... came down the main Willow creek. Both branches present a sorry looking spectacle. Acre after acre of grain that was almost ready for the harvest is buried out of sight in sediment. Thousands of tons of rocks weighing from an ounce to five hundred pounds have been torn down from the hillsides and spread out upon garden yard and field, and roads washed entirely away in some places and piled ... in others. Many houses along the creek are built at the mouth of a canyon and these are the places that suffered most. ... place is so situated, and a perfect deluge of water came down upon him striking the house square in front. No one was at home but two young girls and it is safe to conjecture they were badly frightened but the house ... made of hewn logs stood the pressure without a groan while the whole yard was buried two feet deep in rock many of which would measure six feet in circumference. At the mouth of a canyon a little below Mitchell's place the fence was half buried and a field completely covered with rocks. On the main creek the flood was greater and did much more extensive damage than on Hinton fork. Beautiful fields of grain laid waste, gardens torn up, front door yards converted from verdant beds of clover to gravel beds, fields of grain that had been cut were raked up by the water and stacked in the tree tops, fences torn away, orchards dug up by the roots. More havoc done in ten minutes than can be undone in good years. We estimate as follows, which is probably much less than it really is: Mart ... $200, J Q Wilson $100, Joe Rec or $100, James Stratch ... Jones $150, John Elder $150, James ... $200, William Mitchell $150, N A Kelly $100, James L Pallier $50, Pat ... $101, James Neville $150, Mrs Maddock $100, W L Mallory $75, E A Brundage $200, ... G Hart $100, John Willingham $100, John Hughes $100, Mrs F ... $100, Samuel Donaldson $100. The losses at Heppner are estimated as follows: Tom Ayers $300, C E Fell $500, W P Dutton $50, Abe Wells $180, E G Sloan $200, Arch Crawford $100. On Monday afternoon there was a great waterspout on Little Butter creek which did extensive damage. Part of the postoffice at Lena was carried away. We are unable to get full particulars. At the same time of the freshet here Rhea creek was flooded. We learn that Frank Gilliam's place on that stream was damaged not less than $1000. The Geinger place at the mouth of the creek was damaged probably $1500. A E Wright's place was badly cut up and a fine orchard ruined. Mrs Ferguson's place one mile below town is worsted $250 worth. This is by far the most destructive flood that ever visited this end of the county.

Washington Territory.

Spokane Falls has 450 school children.

Large bands of Indians are assembling at Coeur d'Alene to dig camas and attend the horse racing.

The residence of Mr McManus on Crab creek, was struck by lightning and destroyed last week.

Something like 300 settlers have located land in the vicinity of Harrington during the past four months.

The county commissioners of Yakima county in special session last Monday and Tuesday awarded the contract for constructing a bridge across the Yakima near town to the Pacific Bridge company of Portland for $3862. In style the bridge is to be of the Pratt truss combination.

Saturday night a sixteen year old daughter of Mrs. Rooney residing at Walla Walla, eloped with a blacksmith who recently arrived from The Dalles, and who went by the name of Wallace. No trace of the eloping couple has been found, and it is thought they are concealed in the city as all trains have been watched.

The Yakima Signal says: The recent copious rains which have visited this section have greatly improved the crop prospects of the present season. Of course it would have done much more good if this rain had made its appearance earlier in the growing season but in aiding grain to fill out it will be of great benefit even at this late day.

Recently a meeting of republicans was held at Davenport for the purpose of arranging for the organization of a republican central committee. After some discussion the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That a call be made to the republicans of Lincoln county to meet in mass convention at Davenport on Saturday June 29 1884 at 11 o'clock A M for the purpose of selecting a republican county central committee and transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Last Saturday a little 5 year old daughter of Mr Haselton, who lives in Lord's valley Lincoln county, ate some poisoned wheat and in less than ten minutes dropped dead in the presence of her agonized mother. The particulars of the case are as follows: It seems that Mr Haselton who was in Waitsburg at the time of the child's death had a tin can filled with wheat which he had mixed with strychnine to poison squirrels. This can he had placed under the house for safe keeping. By some means or other the little child became possessed of the deadly mixture and in the presence of her two little brothers deliberately ate a portion of it. She then ran into the house and going up to her mother in childish glee called attention to a new dress she had on. At the time. Suddenly the little one was taken with a violent spasm, fell to the floor and in less than five minutes expired in terrible agony.

The Lincoln Leader says: Louis A Knott, the murderer of Thomas Higgins, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree at the recent term of court at Colfax will pay the penalty of his crime on the gallows July 21. The prisoner took his sentence as a matter of fact, and in his unfeeling way sat down and commenced conversation with his attorney betraying his stubborn disposition and a determination not to give up until the last possible chance was gone. He will be heavily ironed and a death watch kept over him until the day of execution. When sentence was pronounced on Knott his poor old father who had left a comfortable home in Colorado and journeyed to Washington territory for the purpose of assisting his wayward son, saw that all hope was gone and gave way to his feelings. Everybody pities the old man who with bowed form and anxious face watched the trial step by step and with true parental solicitude endeavored to do what he could for an unworthy son who had brought sorrow and shame to his declining years but no sympathy is wasted on the murderer.

Montana.

Missoula has arranged a fine programme for the 4th.

Benton merchants report a healthy improvement in trade. They will do a good business during the wool season.

Last Friday a man named Bill Thompson committed suicide at Big Timber section house by shooting himself. The cause for his self murder is said to have been that a girl whom he wished to marry would not grant his suit.

Thursday night a tramp who undertook to get on the brake beam of a car in a train at Eddy, Missoula county, fell and the wheels ran over his head crushing it and spattering his brains along the track. No inquest was deemed necessary.

A man by the name of Thomas Norton was found dead in a cabin in the southern portion of Helena where he died as is supposed from heart disease some time during Sunday night. Norton was a waiter in the old St Louis hotel in the early days of C D Sullivan.

A prisoner trying to escape from the county jail at Butte received a dose of buckshot from the guard striking him in the ankle and hip. The latter made a severe and perhaps serious wound. The prisoner continued to run not knowing he was shot. He says but looking around and seeing the guard in the act of firing again threw up his hands and surrendered. The wounded man is under the care of a physician.

A bad Indian made hostile demonstrations to some of the settlers on the Little Heart river. He had drawn a knife and with several others had threatened to burn the houses and wagons of the settlers. A detachment of troops was sent out from Fort Lincoln and five or six Indians were captured. The one that flourished the knife was identified and hauled over to the sheriff. The Bismarck Tribune finds in the above a strong reason for the enlargement of Fort Lincoln.

The flood which struck the headwaters of the Prickly Pear at Corbin and Jefferson City by a cloud burst last Saturday says a Helena exchange seems to have been but a part of a great body of water that fell on the Alta divide and rushed down with destructive force on both sides of the mountain. We learn that the flood which was so disastrous to life and property at Corbin did considerable damage in the valley on the west side where the Gregory smelters are located. The damage at Gregory was sufficient to cause the shutting down of the works and to move several buildings from their foundations in that vicinity.

The Helena Herald says: The wool clip has been progressing splendidly, and good judges say it will be of excellent quality and will average seven pounds to the sheep. This excels last year by a pound to a pound and a half each. A well known sheep man has suggested that shearing places be erected on the Northern Pacific like those on the Union Pacific, to which the sheep can be driven and sheared very quickly by the large gangs of shearers they stay at such points which would also become large wool markets. To some of those points on the Union Pacific sheep are driven from fifty to one hundred miles to be shorn but the arrangements are so perfect that large bands are handled very expeditiously and to the advantage of both the wool grower and the parties who manage the shearing places.

Idaho

Dan Ferguson, who shot and instantly killed Thomas Steel some days ago during a quarrel at Eagle City, Coeur d'Alene, has been held to answer the charge of murder in the sum of $3000.

Ricksburg Idaho: where the Madison valley boys captured their men last week is said to be one of the principal rendezvous of the worst gang of horse thieves in the mountains. The place is situated in the thinly settled portion of Oneida county and in a region which abounds in facilities for the concealment of stolen horses, the neighboring mountains abounding in natural parks secluded from observation and only accessible through narrow gorges which are easily closed by slight fences.

The more intelligent Irishmen are for Blaine and Logan. Fifteen hundred Irish American Land Leaguers are organizing to vote for Blaine and Logan in Cincinnati. The Boston Pilot the leading Land League organ of Massachusetts says Blaine and Logan can beat any ticket the democrats may nominate. A similar feeling is developing among the Irishmen of Chicago and Milwaukee. They want a man for president who has the courage to protect American interest and an ability to satisfy and they think Blaine is just the man for that.—Chicago Journal.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY July 2.

A light shower of rain this morning was followed by cloudy weather with promise of more moisture. Cloudy and threatening weather rules through the eastern section. Trade is generally quiet and presents much of a holiday appearance. The central stringency in the money market is continued. From Seattle comes word of other and new failures yesterday and the decks are not yet swept. The late failure here excited considerable interest that had it been altogether unexpected. The trade situation can hardly show substantial improvement until the all trade becomes brisk and the recovery must start in on the eastern slope. To day the sale of railway stocks shows a decided improvement and while no sharp advance is probable the situation must slowly improve.

Eastern and California cities are preparing for from two to four holidays after to morrow. New York, Chicago and San Francisco exchanges and boards adjourn over to Monday and only outs de commercial reports will come through. In our own city Friday the 4th will witness a general closing of business houses and wholesalers will probably be closed Saturday giving employes three days rest. This long ... can be given without loss or serious inconvenience. The holiday question can be argued both ways, but at present the quiet of trade should greatly influence the closing movement.

Overland receipts include 25 cs sardines, 50 cs lard ... kgs pickles, 103 sks coffee, 39 pkgs tobacco, 15 pkgs crackers.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours 115 ... bls wheat 511 bls flour 61 sks millstuff 7754 lbs wool 35 lbs hides 61 cs eggs 4 bxs butter. Also ... bls wheat, 160 bbls flour, 91 7.2 lbs wool, 10 475 lbs hides from the eastern section.

WHEAT—The English markets are dull and soft and San Francisco sympathizes to the extent of 5@5 cents per cental. The wheat situation is seriously depressed and values for new crop promise to open low.

PROVISIONS—The demand is more than met by stocks although some lard is constantly being taken.

CHICKENS—Liberal supplies continue but the undertone has slightly improved.

EGGS—A firmer market is had and few are sold below ... cents.
